Parent Council Report 2022/2023 School Year Mrs. Grainger

Language Arts: We have been using UFLI, which is a systematic language program. Each lesson contains 8 parts: Phonemic Awareness, Visual Drill, Auditory Drill, Blending Drill, New Concept, Word Work, Irregular Words, Connected Text. We are also using a supplemental resource called secret stories that have 'secrets' about certain letter sounds that do not follow the rules. We will also using the district mandated Units of Study for writing; which in the past was tricky with so many kids that are reading below grade level, so it will be interesting to see what he effect of using UFLI will have on the students writing. We have writing folders and paper dictionaries that we will introduce in the new year (grades 1 and 2)

Math: We are using a combination of materials including JUMP math. This year so far, we have followed the district scope and sequence and have covered sorting, patterns and number sense to 20 and counting to 100 (June outcome).

Science: We have covered primary and secondary colors, Seasons and what changes in the seasons and How Animals Get Ready for Winter. In the new year we will start our building things unit as well as the 5 senses.

Social: We have covered belonging to a group, community and how that impacts us. We have talked about how you identify a group. We have moved on to our mapping unit. We completed our school scavenger hunt a couple weeks ago. On Thursday, we are starting our Christmas around the world with the grade 2s. 6 Teachers are presenting a country and students will rotate through the 6 groups. As well, students are also bringing in posters that show what their Christmas traditions are that they will share with the class.

Health: We have been using the District's mental health units. As well we are using the At My Best program with Rae the Star and each child takes it home for a day and does a healthy activity and journals about it.

Technology: We are gearing up for the hour of code that starts on December 5. I have introduced them to coding and we will primarily be using the website kodable for that. We will also be doing pencil and paper coding. In the new year we will use the spheros and we lego to test out our coding skills.

Financial Literacy: I am continuing with a program that I started last year. We call it Fun Friday and they can earn tokens for the week to a maximum of 4 tokens and then on Friday they redeem them for an activity of their choice. Last year I also expanded this to the purchase of desk pets, which they could purchase on Fridays as week.
